Dear Rachel,

Following our meeting on 11 November, I would like to revise the above application by dropping the extension of approved uses to include social events. I have noted that the objections to the application have mainly concerned noise and traffic. The building would only be offered for use by corporate customers arriving in up to 20 vehicles that can be accommodated in the car park and if necessary in front of the fence off the road. This will limit the number of people attending to between 30 and 40, which is the comfortable limit for meetings where people move around the building. These events will be held during normal working hours when there will be no disturbance to nearby residents. I do not anticipate more than two such events per month on average. This use of the mill will be the same as for our charitable purposes, but in this case the visitors will be paying to use the building.

I have amended the travel plan and the supporting information to reflect the change requested, which are attached.

Yours sincerely,

Martin Phillips
