

Odin's Rest - Operational Procedures & Rules

We think it is of great relevance that we attach a complete breakdown of our site rules and the basis of operations. Below listed are the rules which we will enforce / operate fastidiously. All our rules are in place to protect and preserve the tranquility and serenity of our establishment and the local area.

Site Rules:

- Please respect the environment, wildlife and other guests
- Avoid walking through another guest's glamping area
- No stag or hen parties allowed
- No speakers, amplifiers or PA systems to be used on site
- No smoking inside accommodations or facilities
- Facilities: only use the eco friendly products provided
- All belongings and vehicles are left on site at owner's risk
- Rubbish must be taken home – bags can be provided if required

The management / ownership reserve the right to ask any patrons to leave at any point and this right will be exercised in the case of any of the rules being breached, or any unwelcome behaviours / attitudes we feel brings the safety and/or reputation of our establishment into harm's way.

Dog Policy:

Unfortunately (although we absolutely love them) we do NOT allow dogs on site due to the amount of wildlife at Odin's Rest. Protected species roam the general area and we also have neighbouring properties with livestock and racehorses.

Lighting policy:

Only torches and camping head torches are permitted for use as we have a policy of zero exterior lighting. This, we operate in order to protect and prevent the occurrence of, or interruption from, light pollution. This is something very important to us as we believe one of the largest benefits to our patrons are the stunning night skies we are fortunate enough to have here. With surrounding areas, such as the North York Moors achieving 'Dark Skies' status in recent years, we, as local residents and ambassadors of the area, hold high hopes that one day we ourselves may achieve or be awarded the prestigious 'Dark Skies' status too. We have considered this in every aspect of our design and the implementation of our facilities.

Site access:

It is worth noting that Odin's Rest is a completely private establishment, operating on a pre-booking system only. There will be no admittance, attendance or access by general public (commonly known as 'walk-ins' in the industry). We work solely on a private booking system. This, in turn means we can fully control the numbers of guests / patrons at any given time. Access will not be granted after 10pm. This way we avoid any movements of peoples during what is generally considered to be anti-social hours.
